SIGN IT, GOV. HILL.

The Women Factory Inspector Bill Has Passed the Assembly, Also.

Only Wants the Executive Signature to Be a Law.

"The Evening World's" Vigorous Efforts Crowned with Success.

Senator Fassett's bill providing for the projetment of eight women factory inspectors having been passed by the Assembly by a vote of 98 to 3, now goes to the Governor

An effort was made to amend the bill in the House by giving the appointing power to the Governor instead of the Chief Factory Inspector, and by increasing the salaries of the inspectors $500, but both objections were overruled.

The only members who voted in opposition to the measure were Assemblymen Pierson, of Suffolk; Mase, of Dutchess, and Nixon, of Chautauqua.

The measure, which is now to become a law, provides that no minor under eighteen years of age and no woman shall be employed in laboring in any manufacturing or mercantile establishment more than ten hours in one day, except where a different apportionment of the hours of labor is made for the sole purpose of making a shorter day's work for one day of the week, and in no case shall the hours of labor exceed sixty

These eight female inspectors are to have the same duties, powers and terms of office as those of the deputy male inspectors, and they will be subject to the supervision and direction of the Chief Factory Inspector, who will assign them to particular districts throughout the State as the best interests of the people require it.

It is also provided that the words, "Mercaptile Establishments," shall apply to any place where goods, ware and merchandise are offered for sale, and wherever five or

THE EVENING WORLD has from the outset been an active champion of Senator Fasset's bill, and has shown, beyond a doubt, tives having personally visited many of the large factories in New York and its vicinity where women are employed, that under the existing law the force of State inspectors was too small to give adequate protection to uployees of large manufacturing establish-

This was especially noticeable in [the case of women and children employed as operatives, who are invariably subjected to every description of petty tyranny, and all sorts of imposition, against which, on account of the weakness of their position, they might protest in vain.

It was found that this was particularly the case with women and children employed in small factory towns, where the physical condition and morality of this class of operatives was, 'on the average, far below that in the large cities.

With the small force of factory inspectors heretofore employed, it was impossible to secure a proper supervision of the mills in all these smaller towns and villages, and it followed that in many of them the provisions of the law as they already existed were syr tematically disregarded.

THE EVENING WORLD has persistently advocated the appointment of female inspectors, because the peculiar hardships to which factory women are subjected would be very apt to be overlooked through the thoughtiessness or carelessness of male in-

Many of the most prominent workers in the field of labor throughout the State have expressed their hearty approval of the efforts that have been made by THE EVENING WORLD to secure the amelioration of the condition of women in the factories, and have been unanimous in the opinion that the appointment of female inspectors is she only feasible method of correcting the existing

There is no doubt that the rain dwarfed the dimensions of the demonstration. Plans had been perfected which would have resulted, had the evening been clear, in packing Union Square'to overflowing. As it was, six or seven thousand men marched in the drenching rain to the spot and stood in a literal shower bath and listened to speeches in three languages from well-known and trusted exponents of the demands of labor and the principles of the Socialistic Labor party.
